“Commercial real estate offers attractive yields and the potential for appreciation in a current investment landscape where both are difficult to identify,” Berenbom said. “Kansas City and other Midwestern markets offer good value, and LANE4 has the relationships and expertise necessary to identify those opportunities. I believe that the deals the firm has been able to put together, and will now pursue on a larger scale, will find an eager audience among private investors.”

“Brokerage will always be our backbone, but LANE4 has experienced some great successes on the investment side of the business, and we are excited to continue to grow in that direction,” Buckley said.
